OVERVIEW

Santa Ana Wheel is an automotive wheel retailer where I managed marketing, branding, and e-commerce. I worked on social media, product listings, and in-store marketing to improve brand visibility and sales. Additionally, I optimized the company's website for better performance, search rankings, and user experience, helping drive more traffic and conversions.

CONCLUSION

Working at Santa Ana Wheel gave me valuable experience in digital marketing, branding, and website optimization. I learned how to improve customer engagement through social media, enhance e-commerce performance with SEO and product optimization, and create a seamless connection between online and in-store marketing. Additionally, providing insights for the company's other businesses strengthened my ability to analyze branding strategies across multiple ventures. This experience helped refine my skills in marketing strategy, web development, and business growth, which I look forward to applying in future opportunities.
